

Can a cannon grow flowers someday?

Can any gun bullets plan a beautiful livable city?

Of course, not

But the hope that grows on a balanced land filled with peace can do it.

Peace is a sun that illuminates the darkness of conflicts

Peace is a promising future for our children who may become victims of wars

Peace is a thread that connects us to a righteousness that preserves our humanity

Peace is the ideal greeting between nations for getting to know each other Everyone may struggle to reach the top, but we will not reach it without any losses except with peace

Dear parents,

Warm greetings to you all;
